

Changes to Age Pension if you get Australian employment income

We can suspend your Age Pension for up to 2 years if your Australian employment income goes over the cut off limit for more than 12 fortnights in a row.

If we suspend your Age Pension, you'll still get to keep your Pensioner Concession Card while your payment is suspended.

What you need to do

You don't need to do anything, we'll suspend your payment automatically.

We'll write to you letting you know that we've suspended your payment.

You won't need to report your income during the suspension.

What to know

- 1 You can ask us to restore your payment at any time, if you either:
 - earn less
 - stop working.
- 2 Your partner can also have their payment suspended if they get one of the following:
 - Age Pension
 - Disability Support Pension
 - Carer Payment.

Looking for help?

Go to servicesaustralia.gov.au/agepensionworking for more information about working and getting Age Pension.

Go to servicesaustralia.gov.au/yourlanguage where you can read, listen to or watch information in your language.

Call 132 300 if you need help with your Age Pension or another service.

Call 131 202 to speak with us in your language about Centrelink payments and services.

Visit a service centre.