

Centrepay is changing:

Removed service reasons, goods and services

We're improving Centrepay from 3 November 2025. If you're using Centrepay to make payments to a business, some services may no longer be available.

What's changing

We'll remove the following goods and services from Centrepay starting from 3 November 2025:

- Household goods lease and rental, including renting whitegoods, furniture, or electrical appliances
- Basic household items, such as clothing and footwear
- Food from a community or grocery store in a non-remote location, or a butcher in any location.
- Funeral expenses, including funeral plans, bonds and general funeral costs
- Employment expenses such as work uniforms, tools, protective clothing, training and footwear
- Savings, including deposits for microfinance savings plans provided by not-for-profit organisations and financial institutions
- Social and Recreational commitments, including sporting activities and equipment, musical activities and equipment, church donations and sponsorships
- Motor Vehicle Registration, including registration of cars, motorbikes, caravans and third-party insurance
- Telecommunications, including mobile phones, tablets and laptop devices, this includes those sold as part of a bundle of services
- Transport, including self storage, removalists, fuel and car repairs.

You can buy mobile phones, tablets and laptops using a No-interest Loan Scheme (NILS) deduction.

What you need to know

Centrepay deductions are the payments you make to a business using Centrepay. If you have existing payments, they can continue until 1 November 2026, unless one of the following occurs earlier:

- you pay it out
- you cancel it
- the business is removed from Centrepay.

It's important to know that after 3 November 2025 you can't do any of the following:

- start a new deduction
- increase your deduction
- restart an existing deduction to the business.

You can cancel your deduction at any time. If you have any existing credit with a business, you can ask them for a refund.

What do you need to do?

Be prepared for the changes. If you want to keep using the business for these items, ask them what other payment options they have.

If your deductions are ending, talk to the business about any excess credits you might have with them and other payment options they have for you.

You can check and update your Centrepay deductions by either:

- signing into my.gov.au, selecting your Centrelink online account, then searching 'Manage deductions'
- using the myGov app and selecting Menu, Deductions, then View/Add/Change Deductions
- using the Express Plus Centrelink mobile app and selecting More, Deductions, then Centrepay Deductions. Make sure you have the latest version installed.

You can also contact us on your regular payment line or visit us in person at a service centre.
