

Social Security Agreement between Australia and North Macedonia

Australia's social security system

Australia's social security system is different to most other countries. Each person's pension is paid by the Australian Government out of general funds, rather than through contributions paid into a social insurance fund. For this reason, Australian pensions are income and asset tested.

You will have to tell us about all of your, and if you have a partner¹, your partner's¹ income and assets if you want to claim an Australian pension.

How does the agreement help you?

If you live in Australia or North Macedonia, the agreement generally allows you to submit a claim for an Australian or Macedonian payment. It also allows you to add together periods of residence in Australia and periods of social security coverage in North Macedonia, so you can meet any minimum requirements for payment.

Australian payments

We make all decisions about Australian payments.

Who can get an Australian payment?

To qualify for an Australian payment under the agreement, you generally need to meet the following basic requirements:

Australian payment	Basic qualifications:
Age Pension	• you must have reached the qualifying age (refer to servicessaustralia.gov.au/agepension for details), and • your total Australian residence² combined with your period(s) of coverage in North Macedonia must add up to at least 10 years.

Notes:

- There may be additional requirements you need to meet before you can be paid.
- If you live outside Australia when you claim, you generally need at least 12 months Australian Working Life Residence², of which 6 months must be in one period.
- We cannot be sure if you will get a payment, until you submit a claim and your circumstances are taken into account. It is your responsibility to decide whether you submit a claim for payment or not.

Footnote	Information
1. Definition of a partner	You have a partner if we generally consider you a member of a couple. We consider you a member of a couple if you're: • married • in a registered relationship • in a de facto relationship. A registered relationship is where your relationship is registered under a law of an Australian state or territory. If your relationship is registered outside Australia, we do not recognise it as a registered relationship. You can use it as evidence for a de facto relationship. A de facto relationship is where you and your partner are in a relationship similar to a married couple but are not married or in a registered relationship.
2. Australian residence/Australian Working Life Residence	'Australian residence' means periods when you were residing in Australia as an Australian citizen or Australian permanent visa holder. Australian residence at any time is used to qualify for an Australian payment. 'Working Life Residence' is period/s of Australian residence between the ages of 16 and Australian Age Pension age only.
