

The MH17 Family Support Package is a payment to help the families of Australian victims, of the downing of Malaysia Airlines flight MH17, to travel to the Netherlands to observe or participate in the Dutch national prosecution scheduled to commence on 9 March 2020.

Who is eligible for assistance?

A child under 16 years of age may be eligible to receive this payment if they are a family member of an Australian, or a person with close links to Australia, who died as a result of the downing of Malaysia Airlines flight MH17, on 17 July 2014, and they want to observe or participate in trial proceedings in the Netherlands. A legal guardian must submit a claim on a child's behalf.

The assistance is limited to 1 trip in each financial year for up to 2 family members for each Australian victim – for more information, see 'Definition of key terms – Australian victim' in the Notes (page 5). This will be for the duration of the trial proceedings or until available funding is exhausted, whichever is first.

Each family member must submit a separate claim for each trip. Different family members can travel on different occasions.

Where more than 2 family members apply for financial assistance in a financial year, we will apply the family member hierarchy. For more information, see 'Definition of key terms – Family member hierarchy' in the Notes (page 5).

If you are 16 years of age and over and would like to make a claim, please see the MH17 Family Support Package (for a person 16 years and over) (EM198) form .

What does the package cover?

The package includes a payment to help with the costs of travel and an allowance to help with the costs of being in the Netherlands.

Financial assistance for a support person to travel with the child may be given under special circumstances.

How much is paid?

Funding is available for up to 3 occasions. Payment, to each eligible family member, will be:

- a travel payment of up to $2,000 to help with the costs of airfares, insurance and ground transport to attend the trial, and
- a living allowance payment (to include the cost of accommodation) of up to $210 per night, capped at $1,500.

Note: The travel payment is only available to eligible family members who live outside of the Netherlands. A child may still be eligible for a living allowance payment if they live in the Netherlands.

The MH17 Family Support Package will be considered a tax free payment for tax purposes and does not affect a child's entitlement to receive payments under the Social Security Act 1991.

Booking travel and accommodation

The Australian Government will not make travel arrangements on behalf of the child. You will be required to make their travel arrangements, including flights, accommodation and travel insurance.
