

Social Security Agreement between Australia and the Republic of Korea

Australia's social security system

Australia's social security system is different to most other developed countries. Each person's pension is paid by the Australian Government out of general funds, rather than through contributions paid by individuals and employers into a social insurance fund. For this reason, Australian pensions are income and asset tested.

The Department of Human Services (DHS) delivers Australian social security payments to individuals.

You will have to tell us about all of your, and in some instances, your partner's¹ income and assets if you want to claim an Australian pension.

How does the agreement help you?

The agreement generally allows you to lodge a claim for payment from either country. It also allows you to add together your periods of residence in Australia and periods of social security coverage in the Republic of Korea, so you can meet the minimum requirements for payment.

Who can get an Australian payment?

If you live in Australia, the Republic of Korea or another specified agreement country⁵, you can lodge a claim for the Australian Age Pension in any of those countries.

To qualify under the agreement, you need to meet the following basic requirements*:

Age Pension

You may be able to get Age Pension if:

- you are over the qualifying age (refer to humanservices.gov.au for details), and
- the total period of time you have lived in Australia and/or your periods of coverage in the Republic of Korea add up to more than 10 years.

Note: if you live outside Australia when you claim, you generally need at least 12 months Australian Working Life Residence², of which six months must be continuous.

*There may be additional requirements you need to meet before you can be paid.

Who can get a Korean payment?

Under the agreement, you can add periods of Australian Working Life Residence² to your periods of coverage in the Republic of Korea to meet the minimum requirement for the Korean Old Age Pension, Early Old Age Pension, Special Old Age Pension and Active Old Age Pension.

The Korean pension authorities make all decisions about Korean payments. For more information about Korean payments, you should contact the Korean pension authorities³.

How do I claim?

If you are in Australia, to claim:

- an Australian payment under the agreement, go to humanservices.gov.au
- a Korean payment, contact the department⁴, or
- lodge your claim at your nearest DHS Service Centre.

If you are in the Republic of Korea, to claim:

- a Korean payment, contact your local Korean social insurance office
- an Australian payment:
 - contact your local Korean social insurance office
 - the department, or
 - download the claim forms from humanservices.gov.au

You can also lodge your claim at any local Korean social insurance office.

If you are in another specified agreement country⁵, to claim:

- an Australian payment contact the department, or
- download the claim forms from humanservices.gov.au

You can also lodge your claim at any local social insurance office in that third country.

To get a claim for a Korean payment, contact the Korean pension authorities³. You will need to lodge your claim for a Korean payment directly with the Korean pension authorities.

Claims for Australian payments can be lodged up to 13 weeks early. You must lodge your claim and all supporting documents at the same time. If you do not do this your claim may not be accepted.

Disclaimer

The information contained in this publication is intended only as a guide to payments and services available.

SOCIAL SECURITY AGREEMENT BETWEEN AUSTRALIA AND THE REPUBLIC OF KOREA

The information in this factsheet is accurate as at July 2019. If you use this publication after that date, please check with us that the details are up to date.

Should I lodge a claim?

We can't be sure if you will get a payment, until you lodge a claim and your circumstances are taken into account. It is your responsibility to decide whether you lodge a claim for payment or not.

From what date are the payments available?

Most government payments are paid from, or after the date on which the application is made so the sooner you lodge your application, the quicker you may be paid.

For Australian payments, you must lodge your claim and all supporting documents at the same time. If you don't your claim may not be accepted.

What do you need to do when dealing with a third party?

You may deal with a third party who is not a member of our staff. If you do so, please remember that we have not authorised any third parties to provide information or advice to you about payments.
